Must Buy Stamps.

People living about the rural free delivery routes all over the country have been in the habit of putting uncancelled letters in their mail boxes with enough postage to pay the postage and the carrier is expected to keep the stamps and put them on the letters. The Postoffice Department is anxious to break up this habit and a circular has been sent out to all Postoffice, urging them to do all in their power to discourage such practices. The reason given is that it unnecessarily delays the carrier and in getting the postage or other notes out of the boxes frequently drops them on the ground, especially in cold weather when his hands are cold, and thus he not only loses time, but money in doing something that the senders of the letters should do for themselves, viz., stamp their own letters.

Hemp Growers.

1909 crop of river bottom and upland cultivated hemp seed latest importation.
Sample and price on application. "Hempphones".

A Unique Card of Thanks

An exchange says this is the way out of its subscribers sent in a card for thanks.

Mr. Editor: I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their cooperation during the illness and death of my late husband who escaped from me by the hand of death on last Friday, while eating breakfast. To my friends and all who contributed so willingly toward making the last moments and the funeral a success, I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these lines will find you enjoying the same blessing. I have also a good milk cow and a new house, eight years old, which I sell cheap. God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform. He plans his footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm. Also a black and white chick, cheap.

Lost Package.

Addressed to Mrs. J. B. Willis, Crab Orchard, was left in some business house January 1st. Any information kindly received at The Climax office

Colored Brother Ousted.

The new Shelbyville City Council sprang a surprise last week when it ousted T. S. Baxter, the negro Councilman from the Sixth ward in that city. Baxter had been a member of the Council for eighteen years, and numerous plans had been attempted to get rid of him. Two weeks ago an ordinance was introduced abolishing the Sixth ward, in which Bacter resided, by adding the territory to the Fourth and Fifth wards. The new Sixth ward was created from territory that was heretofore embraced in the Fourth and Fifth wards. Friday night the ordinance became effective, and when Baxter showed up at the meeting he was advised that he was no longer a member of the board.

Notice.

All parties having claims against the estate of the late Irvine Ashby are hereby notified to present the same, properly proved, to the undersigned on or before March 1st, 1910. All parties indebted to said estate will please settle the same at once.

Truth About Catarrh.

Sensative Methods Will Cure It.
B. L. Middleton Guarantees Hyem to Cure Catarrh.

Catarrh can never be cured by taking medicine into the stomach, nor by sprays, steamers or douches.
Intelligent physicians have long ago discarded such ideas and not one of them would be worth consideration were it not for the fact that unscrupulous persons prey upon the ignorance of the people in regard to new discoveries.

Catarrh is caused by germs and just as long as these germs thrive in the folds of the mucous membrane that line the nose, throat and chest, just so long will you have catarrh.
There is only one way to cure catarrh, and that is to kill the germ.
There is only one remedy that will kill the germs when I get where the germs are, and that is Hyem.

Hyem is made chiefly from Australian Eucalyptus and Eucalyptol combined with other germ killing outcompines. Just breathe it in through the hand rubber inhaler that comes with each outfit and relief is immediate. Used regularly for a few weeks Hyem will cure chronic catarrh. Complete outfit $1.00. B. L.
Middleton's and leading druggists everywhere.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, eructations, belching and cures all stomach diseases or uneasy back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

Questions and Answers.

Many people are taking Foley's Kidney Remedy every year. It is considered the most effective remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles that medical science can devise. Kidney diseases cause more sickness and suffering and are more fatal than any other diseases. Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.

FOR CONGRESS
We are authorized to announce Hon. HARVEY HILL, of Lincoln county, a candidate to succeed himself in Congress from this, the Eighth District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Temple of Satan.
Once a year all the Baptist temples in Klan are visited by the king or his deputies, bearing the iron kilt with red robes. In conformity with an ancient custom by which the priests were made to seek their apparel for the ensuing year. During the lifetime of Buddha monks and priests were sent out to beg for old castoff garments, which were afterward dyed yellow and patched together to form the required robes. This ancient monastic custom gradually gave place to the present one of making the garments from a new cloth of a bright sunny yellow, provided by jolly contributions of king, prince, noble and commoner. When the king goes in the royal throne to beg for robes to present to the priests, he does so with great pomp and ceremony. The priests, however, in his honor, are carried to the door of the temple to await the appearance of his majesty and his entourage. The king on arriving takes a priestly robe and places it on a decorated chair. The chief priest then takes the robe from the chair and places it on the king's shoulders. The king then takes the robe and places it on the shoulders of the chief priest. The king then takes the robe and places it on the shoulders of the chief priest. The king then takes the robe and places it on the shoulders of the chief priest.

Won by His Will.
A story is told of an English clergyman who owed his appointment to a living to a legacy. He was a man of a noble and noble and not long taken orders when he attended the funeral of the rector of the parish in which the deceased's seat was situated. The father of his pupil was patron of the living and was also present at the funeral of the deceased rector. There was a young clergyman present also whose grief was so demonstrative that the noble patron was much affected by the sight and asked if the young man was a son of the deceased rector.

"Oh, dear, no, my lord—no relation at all," said the rector.

"No relation?" exclaimed the nobleman in a surprised tone.

"None, my lord. He is the curate, and I think he is not worshipping for the dead, but for the living."

His lordship, who was something of a wit and a crack himself, was so delighted with the lesson that he conferred the living upon the ready parson.

Through a Big Telescope.
The first look through a great telescope is disappointing, but the nearer you look the more you see. The first appearance of the moon is a mere speck, but as you look on, the moon and stars seem to be in your grasp, rather than spread out on a flat surface. For a moment one feels as if the telescope were like a key in the lock, and the world were falling into his grasp. Then comes the thought: What things does this sphere represent? Is it a sphere with absolutely nothing to do with the world? The magnitude of the learned astronomer cannot be the basis of the world, and he is himself, perhaps for the first time, as a child gazing at the stars.

Of the late Albert Right, one of the founders of fashionable Newport, a Philadelphia story is told.

"Mr. Right was amused by the antics of the milk-milkmaid. At a luncheon at the Bellevue he once sat to a lady with sufficient no-nonsense. Flavors' cake, hard boiled, formed one course, and the lady called it 'Right's attention to the high cost of platters' eggs that year."

"Then thought," she said, "they have to be shipped from England, I don't see why their price should have nearly doubled, do you?"

"Well—er—not exactly," murmured Mr. Right, "though they are not the same platters have taken to acting very oddly in late-arriving crates, and growing topknots and spurs, and even trying to learn to crawl."—Exchange

Court Dress of Laureate.
Tennyson's court dress when he received the laureateship did not cost him much, for it was the same court dress worn by Wordsworth. As it is in the hands of the old poet Tennyson, and it is still in the Wordsworth family. It is a wonder how Tennyson and Wordsworth got into it, for Rogers was a little fatter, and he was not in second hand to save cost.—New York Press.

Hot Air Rates.
Braham—I wish you wouldn't use the telephone so much for out of town calls.

Mrs. Braham—I like to talk to town calls.

Braham—That's what I object to. I'm tired of paying gas bills.—New York Press.

A Careless Man.
Father—Why have you quarreled with Harry? Daughter—Because he proposed to me last night. Father—Well, there was no harm in that, was there? Daughter—But I had accepted him the night before.—Illustrated Lite.

Perseverance.
Perseverance is more prevailing than fortune, and many things which seem to be overcome when they are to be either yield themselves up when taken little by little.

Strict Chastity.
Salesman—Shir, sir. Will you have a cigarette or a stiff drink? Customer—Neither, I guess. The doctor said I must avoid such things.—Boston Transcript.
